CWA Purchases Stopped; No Money After Feb. 10

All Projects to Be Halted After Supplies Are Out

Stop Order Comes Through Thursday From Washington, Little Rock

IS UP TO CONGRESS

President Roosevelt Requesting Additional Billion Dollars

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Preparing for the possible stoppage of the Civil Works program on February 10 because of funds running out, the federal Civil Works Administration (CWA) Thursday halted purchases of materials and supplies for use on projects throughout the country.

The order was described as a "stop-taking" move.

It stated that payrolls could be met until February 10 on present appropriations, but additional appropriations by congress are needed to continue the work beyond that date.

President Roosevelt soon will seek such appropriations.

Shelved in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—Instructions were received by the state office of the Civil Works Administration Thursday from Harry L. Hopkins, federal administrator, Washington, to purchase no further materials nor make any further commitments for purchase of materials without specific approval from Washington.

Floyd Sharp, Civil Works comptroller for Arkansas, forwarded the order to 75 county supervisors.

He interpreted the order to mean that when materials already on hand or contracted for on any specific project, are exhausted the project will be stopped.

Hopkins' action gave no explanation for the action.

Lawson L. Delony, supervisor of the federal CWA project devoted to surveying shrines and monuments in the state, announced that a survey would be started in the historic old town of Washington, Hempstead county.

Roosevelt Asks Billion

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Speedy congressional action on President Roosevelt's proposal that he be given $1,116,000,000 for emergency activities appeared necessary Wednesday to maintain the administration's announced policy of seeing no one cold or hungry this winter.

The president said funds for the Federal Emergency Relief Administration and the Civil Works Administration, both headed by Harry L. Hopkins, would be exhausted by February 11.

Included in the vast emergency request will be $350,000,000 for Hopkins to carry on his relief activities through the spring. Civil Works until May 1, and emergency relief grants to states into the summer.

If congress grants the presidential request however, the administration expects to place additional thousands on the Civil Works rolls as a result of this week's hour reduction order.

Hours Already Reduced

Communities of less than 2,500 and rural areas have been permitted to reduce the working hours of persons on civil works projects to 15 hours a week and to employ other persons to take up the difference. Civil Works employees had been working 30 hours a week.

One of two reasons for the change was that employment agencies in many such areas had four or five times as many persons on their lists as there were jobs. The other—and what many here considered the most important—was the fact that Civil Works wages often were higher than wages authorized under NRA codes and also higher than farm wages.

Hopkins advocated a fixed scale that would permit earnings on Civil Works jobs ranging from $15 a week upward according to the skill and type of work.

Complaints poured in from all sides, President Roosevelt said they had resulted in a study of the best means of preventing Civil Works wages being so high that workers would be tempted to leave private industry or the farms. The president said Hopkins was correcting this situation through lessening work hours instead of cutting rates of pay.

It's just a vacation trip, they say, but if Hollywood gossip has any basis, Greta Garbo may be looking up at her future husband, Rouben Mamoulian, in this fetching pose. Director Mamoulian, Being Mere Man, Is Embarrassed

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—Greta Garbo thought it amusing that she was suspected of being married to her director, Rouben Mamoulian, but Mamoulian finds it embarrassing, the latter said Wednesday in discussing as briefly as he could his account of a four-day auto trip through California and Arizona localities with the Swedish film star.

Miss Garbo, herself, returned from the auto tour Tuesday night, at the same time he did. Mamoulian said, but the actress made herself entirely unavailable to questioners Wednesday, and all her impressions about the joint auto trip had to be gained from (Continued on page three)

Primary for City Called Feb. 20th; Deadline Saturday

Candidates' Pledges Must Reach Committee January 20

RUNOFF MARCH 27

To Nominate Clerk, Attorney and Four Aldermen

The preferential primary for the City of Hope's "off-year" election will be held Tuesday, February 20, the City Democratic Central Committee announced in a legal notice published in today's Star.

The deadline for the filing of candidates' pledges is Saturday, January 20.

For candidates who fail to obtain a clear majority in the first election there will be a runoff Tuesday, March 27, at which time the Democratic nominees, equivalent to election, will be finally determined.

This year's election will be for the following offices:

City clerk, city attorney, and four aldermen, one from each ward.

The committee's announcement, signed by E. Van Sickle, chairman, and C. E. Cassidy, secretary-treasurer, fixed the following fees for candidates: Clerk $20; attorney $20; alderman $10.

Story of Rheta's Insurance Is Told

Dr. Wynekoop's Oral Confession to Shooting Introduced Thursday

CHICAGO.—(P)—The oral confession of Dr. Alice Wynekoop that she fired a bullet into the back of her daughter-in-law Rheta November 21 Thursday by Police Captain John Stege over the protest of defense counsel.

CHICAGO.—(P)—Dr. Alice L. Wynekoop was reported in danger of death Wednesday as the state's star witnesses paraded to the stand and gave testimony against her. Defense Attorney W. W. Smith said the 62-year-old defendant's physicians had informed him that she "might die any minute" of heart disease.

Dr. Catherine Wynekoop, daughter of the elderly woman, said she was "very much afraid mother won't be able to go through the trial."

Details of how Dr. Alice applied for a $10,000 double indemnity life insurance policy on her daughter-in-law, Rheta, a month before the girl was slain, statements made by Dr. Wynekoop to police and the detailed testimony of Thomas J. Ahern, undertaker, came forth Wednesday.

Miss Julia McCormick, saleswoman of life insurance, recalled being summoned to the Wynekoop home by telephone last October 23, told how Dr. Alice furnished the information needed to apply for the $10,000 policy, took it outside Mrs. McCormick's presence for Rheta's signature, and finally paid the first premium on the policy—reduced to $5,000 by the company because Rheta was under weight—on November 11, just 10 days before Rheta's tragic death.

Dr. Alice slouched in her chair. At times she closed her eyes and buried her head in her hands or the table.

City Aid Fight Holds Up Refunding Ballot

Milum Moves to Strike Out City District Provision to Avert Collapse of Entire Refunding Program

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—A move to strike out the controversial Evans city paving aid amendment plunged the senate into a heated debate Thursday afternoon and delayed a final vote on the highway refunding bill.

Senator Milum moved to withdraw the bill from the engrossing committee for the purpose of an amendment to strike out the Evans amendment, which administration leaders regard as endangering acceptance of the bill by the bondholders.

Taking the floor in defense of his amendment, Senator Evans declared "the vote on this motion is going to be a real gizzard test," and asserted that "no power this side of hell can swerve me from what I think is right, and the amendment is right."

Previously, Senator Gilbert had introduced a resolution providing that all amendments to the bill be thrown into the wastebasket and the measure be passed as originally introduced.

Lieutenant Governor Cazort ruled it out of order.

Had Expected to Vote

LITTLE ROCK.—(P)—The house Thursday got within sight of an early vote on bond refunding as the senate prepared to give its final decision on the measure Thursday afternoon.

Although the bill was engrossed under a gentleman's agreement for a vote at 2 p. m., a round-robin was in circulation among senators which it signed by a two-thirds majority would mean the striking out of the amendment giving full aid to street paving districts.

The round-robin was understood to provide that municipal districts would be cared for in a separate bill, thus meeting at least some of the objections of the bondholders and Governor Futrell to including it in the refunding bill.

Canning Projects Produce 8,424 Qts.

Washington Leads All Hempstead With 1,729 Quarts

Exactly 8,424 quarts of meat and vegetables have been canned by the eight canning projects operating under the CWA women's projects, according to Mrs. Harry Shiver, supervisor.

The canning projects are using six women and one meat-cutter in each canning center. The government has supplied these projects with a steam-pressure canning retort that has a capacity of 30 quart-cans at one cooking. The tin cans are quart capacity, plain.

The other equipment in these canning centers consists of cutting tables for meat, work tables, stoves, cooking utensils of all sizes, these being furnished by the local community in which the project operates. The rent or building, fuel, water and lights are also donated by the community.

The products canned in these centers are mostly meat, both beef and pork; 5,427 quarts of beef have been canned, 397 quarts of pork, 26 quarts of chicken.

The vegetables canned have been 1,374 quarts of sweet potatoes, 484 quarts pumpkin, 540 quarts greens, 11 quarts butter-beans, 27 quarts of hominy and 146 quarts of turnips.

Washington leads the county in the total amount canned. Mrs. Lat Moses, the supervisor, has turned in a record of 1,729 quarts of canned products, mostly beef and pork.

Hope comes second under the supervision of Mrs. Riley Lewallen with 1,628 quarts of meat.

Columbus is third under the supervision of Mrs. William Gilbert with 1,307 quarts of meat.

The other projects have the following totals to their credit: Blevins 982 quarts, Patmos 948 quarts, Fulton 943 quarts, and Spring Hill 657 quarts.

Peanut butter will be made from 150 bushels of peanuts bought from Hempstead county farmers. The peanut butter will be packed in pint cartons and turned over to the Community for distribution among the relief.

All the canning products of meat and vegetables will be turned over

Wealthy Tulsans Accused of Fraud in Bank Collapse

Oklahoma Prosecutor Charges 912 State Violations

FAILED LAST SPRING

Entire Directorate of Exchange Trust Company Named

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—Warrants for the arrest of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, and 24 other men high in Tulsa oil and banking circles on embezzlement charges, were issued here Thursday after complaints were filed by J. M. Springer, special prosecutor, in connection with the failure of the Exchange Trust company of Tulsa.

The names, which read like a financial "Who's Who" of Tulsa, comprises the directorate of the Exchange Trust company, which failed with its sister concern, the Exchange National company, and smaller affiliates shortly after the Exchange National Bank was reorganized and named the National Bank of Tulsa.

Springer said an audit disclosed 912 alleged violations of the state banking law but that the statute of limitations has run on all of these but 142, on seven of which the present charges were based.

U. S.-English Deal on Money Hinted

Secret Mission to London May Fix British Pound at $5

LONDON, Eng.—A secret mission to London recently by a member of President Roosevelt's advisory group was reported here Wednesday as the basis of an informal currency agreement which may hold the British pound around a $5 ratio.

Americans in close touch with official circles in London had various reports of an American monetary expert who came here soon after the resignation of Oliver M. W. Sprague as financial and executive assistant to the secretary of the Treasury, November 21.

The United States dollar, meanwhile, gained 1 3/4 cents to the pound and closed at $5.01 7/8 to the pound, compared to Tuesday's close at $5.00 5/8.

545 Extra Jobs in CWA in Hempstead

Shortening of Work Week Spreads Work of 771 Among 1,316

LITTLE ROCK.—New quotas of men to be allowed under the CWA "staggered" payroll system authorized last week by Washington authorities, have been fixed and reveal that an additional 545 men on state CWA projects alone will be put to work in as short a time as possible, it was announced in the office of W. R. Dyess, state CWA director.

This total does not include the federal projects, malaria control and sanitation, in which 5,472 men are at work nor does it include the new quotas to be allowed under women's service projects. Last week there were 12,572 women at work on these projects but county allotments have not yet been made.

Figures released by Mr. Dyess show the following set-up on CWA projects in Hempstead county:

Old quota	771
Living rural	481
Additional men	545
Total new quota	1,316

Under instructions from Washington, the staggered system only is effective in rural communities and in towns of less than 2,500 population. Men now at work in the affected areas will be cut to 15 hours per week except on road jobs where the limit is 30 hours. New workers will be given the same time.

In the committee sessions the dates and places for the holding of the boys and girls' junior and senior district basketball tournaments will be decided. Bids will also be received and the site selected for the holding of the senior and junior district track meets.

Farm Program Is Success, Wallace

Secretary Declares Producers Have Co-Operated 100 Per Cent

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Secretary Wallace Thursday stepped before the senate agricultural committee with the assertion that the first eight months' operation of the greatest farm experiment ever conducted in this country had provided "a conclusive demonstration" that it would work.

Wallace predicted that "longer term plans which will provide for more flexibility on individual farms."

He was generally optimistic and said the farmers who signed contracts to reduce wheat and cotton production had carried them through "almost 100 per cent", proving, he added, that farmers will co-operate in plans which appeal to them as practical.

Gold Action Friday

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Riding roughshod over the house coinage committee, Democratic house leaders decided Thursday to bring up the Roosevelt gold revaluation legislation for action Friday to speed enactment.

This announcement was made by Representative Byrnes, Democratic leader, after the house coinage committee had approved the measure but decided to delay further action pending hearings.

Republicans May Push Mail Probe

Accuse Farley of Taking Ride on Mail-Contract Line

WASHINGTON.—(P)—Republican members of the senate committee investigating air mail contracts said Wednesday they would include the present Democratic postmaster general, Senator Austin, Republican, Vermont, said the airplane trip which Postmaster General Farley and his aides made into Texas last October would be investigated. He said he understood it was made on a plane owned by a mail-contract company.

Testimony that W. Irving Glover, second assistant postmaster general, had directed the destruction of some of his records just before he left office and another tale of how a few hundred dollars were turned into millions in aviation stock investment were heard by the committee.

Chairman Black said that Glover would be called to testify regarding the alleged record burning. The committee already had announced that Walter F. Brown, postmaster general in the Hoover administration, would be summoned in connection with previous testimony that his records, both official and personal, were burned.

Brown had denied that his official records were destroyed.

R. L. Jones, personal secretary to Glover, said he had ordered all the correspondence destroyed on Glover's instructions.

Barham Not to Be Church Revivalist

First Christian Denies Report of Radio Preacher's Engagement

Board members of First Christian church Thursday denied that the Rev. W. S. Barham, Texas radio preacher, would conduct a revival to start January 21 at the church.

The Texas evangelist announced in a story published Wednesday in The Star that he had been granted use of the church building. Board members Thursday denied the evangelist's statement, saying that he had not been given access to the building.

Further conflicting the situation, a board member announced that the Rev. Adria Walker of Jonesboro, Ark., had been engaged to conduct a revival at the church here, starting January 21.

2 More Wounded as Tucker Guards Put Down Revolt

Seven Convicts Spring on Guards in Tucker Clearing Camp

ALL ARE RETAINED

None Gets Away as Prison Checks Delivery Plot

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark.—(AP)—Three convicts were killed and two wounded Thursday after they had assaulted trusty guards in what prison officials described as an attempted wholesale prison delivery.

Those killed were: Cornelius LeFevre, 42, serving 34 years for bank robbery.

Walter Phillips, 32, serving three years for grand larceny.

Archie (Cue Ball) Jones, serving a life sentence for the murder of a trusty guard in a prison delivery in 1932.

The wounded: Guy Kimes, 30, serving seven years for robbery, shot in the arm and body.

Walker Robinson, 31, serving 30 years for robbery and kidnapping. Two other convicts, Wayman Lee, 27, and Johnny Wilson, 34, who is under life sentence for the murder of a cashier in a bank robbery at Paris, Ark., sought also to escape but failed.

Neither was wounded.

Seven were involved in the attempted delivery, with other convicts, were clearing timber in the woods. LeFevre and Jones, described by Prison Superintendent A. G. Stedman as the leaders, attacked a trusty guard with an axe.

The guard fell as the axe hurled at him and the two convicts pounced on him seeking to take his gun. Stedman said. Simultaneously the five others fled.

With this, other trusty guards on duty there opened fire on those escaping and the assaulted guard drew his gun and shot Jones and LeFevre.

Phillips and the two other wounded men were shot by other guards.

LeFevre, sentenced from Clark county for bank robbery, kidnapping and other crimes, was wanted also in LeFlore county, Oklahoma, for robbery. Superintendent Stedman said.

Phillips was wanted by the Indiana reformatory as a parole violator. He was sentenced from Cross county, Arkansas.

Kimes, sentenced from Benton county, was wanted also in Oklahoma as a parole violator. He was under a 25-year sentence for robbery in Oklahoma.

Robison was an escaped convict from the Louisiana penitentiary, having gotten away from there last summer. He was sentenced from Union county for robbery and kidnapping.

Lee was sentenced from Union county for robbery. He escaped in 1930 and was returned in 1931.

Stedman Vindicated

LITTLE ROCK.—A report to A. G. Stedman, superintendent of the state penitentiary system, was indicated Wednesday night as the house investigating committee completed its hearings at the Hotel Marion, but a vote on the nature of the report was deferred until Thursday afternoon when a meeting of the full membership of the committee was to be called.

Expression of the seven members present in executive session after 15 witnesses had been heard, left little doubt that a vote on a definite recommendation would have been four to three for exonerating Stedman of all

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Gore Ready to Ease Out of Puerto Rico . . . Keenan Gang Cleanup Proposal Is Greeted Favorably . . . New Attack May Hit Tugwell . . . Bootleggers' Votes Count.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—The days of Robert H. Gore as governor of Puerto Rico are numbered.

And again it will be proved that faithful political service is a poor qualification on which to base important party appointments.

One of the "original Roosevelt men," Gore, a newspaper publisher, was rewarded with the difficult Puerto Rican post entirely for his service to the Democratic party, despite grave doubt of his fitness.

Almost from the day he took office, storms have raged around Gore's San Juan palace. His "diplomacy" has been so wide of the mark that rage of the islanders increased to the point where bombs were planted at the palace and his summer home.

The Roosevelt administration has hesitated to remove officials while under fire, preferring to ease them out and save face, as witness the case of Ambassador Welles in Cuba. In Gore's case, there will be some justification, of course, as his health has broken under the strain and his wife is ill in Chicago.

And this brings to mind the comment of a hurried party leader: "A lot of these fellows who think that they should be rewarded with jobs really don't want them after they get them, but they're so persistent that we have to do something to get rid of them." And a job is the answer. Any job.

"I could mention one appointment to a Central American post of a man who heekled us so persistently that we were glad to give him a plum. Now that he has it, the chances are he wishes he were rid of it."

Keenan Starts Something

The idea of co-ordinating all the law enforcement agencies of the land under the federal government to stamp out the gangster and the racketeer is gaining ground. Assistant Attorney General Joseph B. Keenan is plugging the movement.

Even some motion picture officials have been found who look with favor on Keenan's plea to boycott cinema houses that persist in showing gangster pictures and other films "subversive of the morals of youth."

Tuggins at Tugwell

Foes of Rexford G. Tugwell—and they are many, among certain types of industrialists and politicians—now will furnish their armor for a new attack on the handsome "brain trust." He is slated for the new post of undersecretary of agriculture, at a salary of $10,000 a year, if Congress approves the appointment.

Tugwell's enemies haven't any particular reason to oppose this, but they'll probably do so on "general principles," just because they dislike Tugwell.

But They Have Votes

One congressman has been found who'll admit that bootleggers are valuable in one way at least. They have votes.

"I've seen lots of bootleggers," says Representative Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. "And a lot of them are my friends. I'm not hypocritical or ashamed of this—because they vote just like any else."

If You've Dry Skin Guard Against Chapping—Creams and Lotions Applied Nightly Keep Hands Smooth and Soft.

If the skin on your neck and face is exceedingly dry, the chances are that your hands are dry and chapped easily.

Cosmeticians of note considered that very angle of the beauty question when they were deciding just what to do about dry skin. Hands were carefully thought about and today every woman knows or at least she should know, that a good hand lotion is practically a necessity on the dressing table.

Get into the habit of rubbing hand cream or lotion on your hands and arms each time after you have washed them. It is soothing and keeps the skin fresh, smooth and beautiful. Dry hands wrinkle and age much more quickly than do those which possess enough natural oil and moisture. You have really beautiful hands should be

Acquisition of a Vocabulary Early in Life Enables Them Later to Express Opinions
By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON
"No one knows what nerve it takes to stand up in a crowd, and speak out so that all can hear, in voice both clear and loud."

A small type said this at a children's entertainment years ago. It was new to me then, but I guess all of us have heard it dozens of times since.

It strikes an answering chord in every man's and woman's heart because it does, take nerve to speak up in a crowd, for adult as well as child, and to speak up in a roomful of people or even at a bridge table is one of the trials of life to many.

"They laughed when —" is common self-analysis when it's all over and you've gone home and decided that every time you opened your mouth you made a goose of yourself. The cringing fear of the shy is an agony of mind that almost nothing can surpass.

Handicap of Small Vocabulary
Now I do not believe that people as a rule are afraid to express their opinions, no matter how shy they are. What gets them is lack of the right words to say what they want. And the correct pronunciation of the words they know.

To go through life with a limited vocabulary is a constant drawback, and it is a pity when our language is so full of words that are briefly and forcefully descriptive.

No magic gives us these words. Listening to good speakers will help some, and reading good books too, but even so, the context may not make the meaning entirely clear.

There is only one way to increase vocabulary and that is to study. I don't mean to get the dictionary, take a pencil and try to learn three dozen words in a day. The best plan is to learn one word a day, or one a week, keep using it, writing it, overworking it until it is yours to keep.

Learn a Word a Day
The very best time to improve vocabulary and their usage is in childhood. Parents can help their children infinitely by taking a new word a day, springing it at meal time, say, and having each one use it in a sentence.

What children learn then will stick. These words will be their most prized possessions later on.

We don't want to turn our families into walking encyclopedias or high brows and make every one afraid of them, but there is little fear of that. They can put these words away for awhile in the strong-boxes of their minds to be drawn on later when needed.

Let me suggest a few words: expiative, subversive, synchronize, abash, concourse, diadem, exhumate, item, prestige, itinerant, saccharine, articulate, sanguinary, landlocked, essential, decadent, truculent.

This is not even a beginning. Keep a dictionary out where it can be used quickly and easily for reference.

Watch the shy child gain confidence—and a hitherto closed world will open wide for him some day.

every woman's aim and the use of a hand lotion is one way to achieve such beauty.

Using a tissue cream on the hands at night is another good practice. Apply it generously and then wear old but clean cotton gloves while you sleep. If you don't own a nourishing cream, remember that olive oil is an excellent hand cosmetic for use at night. Warm it a little before you rub it on.

NEXT: More about dry skin.

Boy Can We Take It!

Married Flirts

by MABEL McELLIOTT
©1933 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
GYPSY MORELL and TOM WEAVEN are married the same day as LILA HOTALING and DEREK HILLS. Lila expects to live in luxury, while Gypsy intends to go on with her job, teaching in a settlement school.

After returning from her honeymoon in Europe Lila invites the Weavens to dinner. Among the guests is wealthy MARKO BROUGHTON, who once asked Gypsy to marry him. He showers her with attentions which she accepts because she is jealous of Tom's interest in LILA BLANCHARD. After the party Tom and Gypsy quarrel, but peace is later restored.

Shopping for Christmas, Gypsy meets Beauchamp who offers her a job cataloging his library. Gypsy hesitates, then agrees, planning to use the money thus earned to buy Tom's Christmas gift. Beauchamp gives her an advance payment of $50.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIII

TOY stared at the box he held in his hand. "But darling, it's magnificent! How did you ever . . ." Then he remembered. He was not just any husband, worrying about bills. He was Gypsy's Tom and this was Christmas Day, when anything might happen. Just the same, the platinum watch rather worried him. Gypsy must have gone deeply into debt to buy it. What an adorable thing she was!

Gypsy's heart was going very fast. She stared at him with rosy eyes. "You mustn't ask questions, dearest, on Christmas Day."

He kissed her, penitent and abashed, his heart fairly swelling with love for her.

Gypsy opened all her packages. Little squeals of delight greeted the scent, the gloves, the flowers. She put the book under her pillow and the candy on the coffee table. She said, and truly, that she loved it all. . . she loved everything, and he was a smart boy to remember her likes to well.

Then they had breakfast, Gypsy's woolly rose dressing gown was belted about her slim figure. Her curls were tossed and her eyes bright. "First first Christmas together being a great success. She had even sent a tiny tree in a corner of the living room (Derek had been right). Later they would go to midday dinner at her mother's house. Tom had brought the car into the city the previous week-end, so that their bundles might be transported in comfort.

"They drove off, just after noon, in the little car, the rumble seat crammed with gayly wrapped bundles. Gypsy snuggled close to Tom's side. What fun Christmas was! It had a special, a different flavor from any other day in the year.

There was turkey. There was cranberry sauce. There was plum pudding. The old house wore wreaths in all its windows. The hall scented of fir boughs and fruit cake and candle-wax. Mrs. Morell had her hair waved; there was a flush in her thin cheeks.

"Dear children! No, you're not late—Clytie was just basting the bird. Daddy's down at the furnace. He'll be upstairs in a minute. You run up and lay your things off in my room. Gypsy, Cousin Lou is in years and I don't believe she's dressed yet."

Cousin Lou was a spare, smiling, middle-aged woman from Asbury Park, always included in the Christmas group. Mr. Morell looked around the table with a swelling sense of life's goodness. A man had his shares of burdens and worries—often he didn't know how he was going to make both ends meet—and then Christmas came along, and he was thankful just to have his dear ones gathered around him. There was Gypsy and that nice boy she'd married. Gypsy was all right. He didn't have to worry about her. A couple of years back, he hadn't quite known . . . Gypsy had been going places with that oldish, rich man. He and Mother hadn't liked the idea. But then the thing had straightened itself out. All his worry had been for nothing. Gypsy had fallen in love. Now she was starting life as he and Mother had. There wasn't much money, of course, but the boy was young and clean and ambitious. Gypsy was taken care of . . .

No one would have known, watching his lined and prosaic countenance, as he sliced meat and spooned dressing, that such thoughts were his. "Some of the white meat, Bertram? I guess he thinks the second joint is choicer."

The old white china, with its gilt bands, the deep blue glasses, the rose wreathed plates for the pudding—all, all were in their accustomed places. This was Christmas, with all the good old things as they had ever been. Morells had eaten from this china 100 years ago, thought the father gravely, and would 100 years from now, please God!

Clytie rolled in with fresh plates, rolled out again with laden ones. She was brave in a stiff new uniform today. Her crinkly hair had been "straightened" for the occasion.

Gypsy was cracking walnuts for Cousin Lou. Across the table, the girl twin squeaked joyously at some joke of Tom's. Gypsy's new scent was much admired and every one exclaimed over his or her gifts. They all felt expansive and happy. Afterward this sense of well-being would deepen into drowsiness. The younger ones would go off to coast, the elder ones would steal a nap, perhaps. But at the moment all was cosiness and laughter.

Gypsy collapsed into her favorite deep chair by the fireplace, afterward. "I didn't know I was so tired until this instant," she confessed luxuriously. "We were up until all hours. I hadn't wrapped any of my packages. . . and I had to trim the tree . . ."

Tom said he proposed a walk in half an hour or so. Did anyone want to come along? Gypsy stifled a yawn. She knew, she said, that a walk would do her worlds of good, but she wasn't going to have one. She was going to curl up on the sunroom couch and snatch 40 winks.

So the party separated, as family parties have a way of doing. The wind outside blew colder, the early dusk fell and the lamps were lighted. In the kitchen regions Clytie clattered cheerfully away with the last pans. She would don her new purple silk presently and go off to the African church in the village. The bill that Mr. Morell had given her crackled enticingly in her purse. Clytie was thankful. She experienced the Christmas spirit.

The house quieted down. Mr. Morell dozed by the fire in the living room, his wife and Cousin Lou played checkers at a table nearby and in the sunroom Gypsy, curled up under an old Paisley shawl, tried in vain to sleep. At first she had been desperately drowsy but, once she had stretched out, she had come stark awake and her conscience had begun to prick her anew.

What a fool she'd been (she thought) to let Marko talk her into

2,617 Millionaires Have Dropped to 216 During Panic

Only 20 Men in Year 1932 Had Income of a Million.

DOLLAR, 36 CENTS

Private Income Has Dropped From 36 Billion to 13 1-3 Billion

WASHINGTON — (P) — America has only 20 multimillionaires, each drawing an annual net income of more than $1,000,000, left out of a group that once numbered 513, the Treasury Department announced Wednesday. Two men, whose identities are cloaked in secrecy, stand head and shoulders above the other sole surviving multi-millionaires. Each has a net income of between four and five million dollars a year, the largest in the country, the Treasury revealed.

Shrunk to 36c on Dollar

Making public statistics on incomes earned in 1932, the last year for which a national survey has been completed, the Treasury disclosed that the net taxable income of American private citizens and corporations has shrunk from $35,841,000,000 in 1928, the past year, to $13,370,000,000 in 1932. Each dollar of taxable income in 1928, in other words, had shrunk to 36 cents in 1932.

The Treasury's statistics also revealed that the virtual disappearance of large incomes since the coming of the depression has converted the federal income tax from a levy carried by the wealthy into one which rests more heavily on persons with small or medium incomes.

Besides the 20 multi-millionaires, each with his net income of $1,000,000 or more, there are 216 persons in the country in 1932 who probably were multimillionaires since each one of them drew an income of $500,000 or more.

Drop in Multimillionaires
Compared with the 21 multimillionaires in 1932, however, there were 2,617 in 1929, more than 10 times as many. Decimation of multimillionaires, the Treasury's report shows, is due largely to shrinkage in speculative and investment profits, the source of most large incomes.

Of the present multimillionaires with net incomes over a million in 1932, 12 reported incomes between $1,000,000 and $1,500,000, three reported incomes between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000, three reported incomes between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000, and two reported incomes between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000.

No one reported an income over $5,000,000, although in 1928, 38 persons were in this income bracket, the highest one listed by the Treasury.

The country's 20 multimillionaires had aggregate incomes of almost $35,250,000, of which they paid $15,500,000 to the federal government in income taxes. The 20 taxpayers out of 3,769,420 who filed returns in 1932 paid five per cent of the total income tax although their incomes made up only three-tenths of one per cent of the total incomes reported.

Dulin Will Start Work on His Lake

Announces Contract to Improve Former Collier's Lake

Work operations on P. A. Dulin's swimming resort, formerly known as Collier's lake, will start February 1 with an expenditure of approximately $15,000. Mr. Dulin announced here Wednesday.

Contract for construction has been let to J. A. Barlow of Little Rock. However, no labor will be brought from outside of the county. Mr. Dulin said. All material will be purchased from Hope concerns.

Plans call for construction of bath houses with showers, ladies and men's rest rooms with lounges, a dance pavilion, and a concrete pool.

Mr. Dulin said his blue print of the resort would practically duplicate the Camp Pike swimming pool at Little Rock.

P. A. Dulin, Jr., will move here from Little Rock next month. Mr. Dulin and his family intend to come here, next November.

Still stands the schoolhouse by the road,
The wee white church is still
A slender finger pointing toward
God's acre on the hill.
The country store is all untouched,
The blue lake takes deep rest
Among the pines, and shabby boats
Are lulled against its breast.
It has not chinked, the little town,
The years have passed it by;
The suns and storms have left no trace
Upon its heart—but I,
Whose feet have wandered far away,
Look at it with new eyes
That see its tangle and its peace
With wonder and surprise.

Mrs. M. H. Barlow is spending this week in DeQuence visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howson and Harry Barlow.

Mrs. C. S. Lowthorp, president of the Arkansas Division, U. D. C., left Thursday morning for Little Rock, where she will serve as toastmistress at the luncheon at Albert Pike Hotel, January 19, given in honor of Mrs. W. E. Massey of Hot Springs, president general of the national organization. On Friday evening Mrs. Lowthorp will broadcast an address over KARK featuring a program sponsored by the four children's chapters of the Confederacy of Little Rock. The program will begin at 7:15, continuing for 30 minutes.

With the Administration of Benjamin Harrison, the 23rd president of the United States as study subject, the Bay View Reading club held an unusually interesting meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. M. LaGrone on North Hervey street. The president, Mrs. Steve Carigan Jr., opened the meeting and stated that owing to the absence of the leader, Miss Maggie Bell who is convalescing from a sprained knee at the home of her niece in Texarkana, that after the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. George Spriggins, the roll would be called and each member would be expected to respond with a three or five minute discussion of some interesting fact or transaction that took place during the administration of Benjamin Harrison. The responses were both interesting and instructive, and adding to the variety of the program, when Mrs. Billingsley's name was called she responded with a number of clever questions on "What Do You Know About January," with the answers revealing "What We Didn't Know About January," which proved to be very amusing as well as memory revivers. A very pleasing feature of the program was a phono selection by Miss Happy Pritchard. Following the program, Mrs. LaGrone assisted by Miss Mamie Twitchell and Miss Happy Pritchard served a most tempting salad course with coffee, substitutes and visitors for the afternoon were Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mrs. J. R. Williams, Mrs. Jennie McWilliams, Miss Happy Pritchard and Mrs. Sid Henry.

Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey McRae and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Duckett and son William were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Glover in Malvern.

Mrs. C. C. Collins entertained at a most delightful noon-day dinner on Wednesday at her home on South Fulton street celebrating her birthday anniversary and that of her sister, Mrs. J. S. McDowell. A huge birthday cake featured the table decoration, and those enjoying the occasion, other than the honorees were their father, B. S. Alford of Minion, La., Mr. and Mrs. Annie McDowell, Mrs. John C. Frew and Mr. C. C. Collins.

Mrs. H. C. Whitworth and Miss Claudia Whitworth were Wednesday visitors in Shreveport.

Friends will regret to learn of the passing of Mrs. W. H. Gray whose death occurred on Tuesday morning at her home in Houston, Texas, after a long illness. Mrs. Gray will be remembered by old friends as Miss Mary Phillips, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Phillips, who spent her girlhood days in this city, moving to Houston at her marriage about 25 years ago. She is survived by her husband and one son and two daughters, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Phillips of this city, two sisters, Mrs. Bessie Smith of Austin, Texas, Mrs. Hazel Johnson of Shreveport, La., and three brothers, A. G. Phillips of Idabel, R. G. Phillips of Pochontas, Ark., and J. W. Phillips of Houston. Funeral services for Mrs. Gray were held at the First Presbyterian church. The Kaufman home was bright and attractive with seasonal flowers and arranged for different games for the entertainment of the guests, after which a delicious salad course was served by the hostesses. An out of town guest was Miss Nina Daniels of Little Rock.

house bill, which were identical when introduced. The house has taken on action regarding aid for municipal paving districts, but has made drastic reductions in the automobile, truck and trailer license schedules.

The senate left these schedules unchanged, but provided for issuance of Series A and B municipal paving aid bonds at the same rate of interest borne by the bonds originally issued by paving districts. Interest on both series would be paid in cash annually from current highway revenues and principal on the same maturity schedule set up in the original district bonds. Principal on the B bonds would be paid in the same manner after the first half of paving continuation costs has been paid by retiring all Series A bonds.

State Hospital Would Close

The governor discussed the situation that will confront the state if no acceptable refunding law is enacted. "What will be the result?" he asked. "The state hospital for Nervous Diseases must be closed, or at least partially closed, in which event the inmates will have to be returned to the counties from which they came."

"Why will this result? Because the legislature borrowed $500,000 from the highway fund with which to maintain the hospital for the fiscal year ending July 1, 1935. The state treasurer is enjoined by the three-judge federal court from paying out any of this money. The hospital cannot be maintained for the period without it. If the institution is to be kept open, and no acceptable refunding law is passed, the legislature must raise this amount in some way, or the hospital will have to be closed."

"Unless the bondholders permit, we will not have a dollar with which to maintain our roads. What will be the result? The answer is, they will be lost. Why will this result? Because the three-judge court says this money belongs to the bondholders, and will enjoin the state treasurer from paying it out for maintenance purposes unless the bondholders consent for this to be done."

Sees Ruin of State's Credit

The governor said that leading lawyers are convinced the decision of the three-judge court would not be upheld by the United States Supreme Court, but pointed out that no ruling could be obtained from the Supreme Court within a year.

"Suppose the decision of the three-judge court be affirmed," he continued. "Contemplate the results. It is the opinion of many eminent lawyers that the turnback has gone from the county forever since the county judges were made parties to the suit in federal court. They believe that the United States Supreme Court will affirm the judgment of the three-judge court as to this feature, while they believe a decision as to the state would be reversed. Under any view, this fund is gone for a year."

"The state's credit and good name will be ruined beyond repair within three generations," he declared. "Honestly is the best policy, and is the Bible injunction. No man nor firm can prosper that has a confirmed reputation for not paying debts. It will tend to destroy the credit of individuals, firms and banks who are from time to time compelled to seek financial assistance beyond the state. It will tend to demoralize business generally. The several interests which are fighting the refunding measure for selfish reasons will suffer far more than the taxes which are necessary to make the refunding law a go, if such a measure shall be defeated."

Thousands Would Lose Homes

"Thousands must prepare to vacate their homes if no refunding law is passed. Why? If a mortgagee, after default has been made, after the mortgagee has paid the mortgage, I will give you more time to pay, and reduce your interest if you will pay more each year than you paid last year, and the mortgagee refuses, what usually happens? Foreclosure and sale of the property speedily follows."

"How can this be prevented after rejection of the offer? The answer is, by payment of the debt. By the time foreclosure decrees upon bonds are entered, the amount due will exceed $18,000,000. The mortgagees, the owners of the lands, cannot pay. Sale and dispossession will follow, all for the debt which the state should, but cannot pay, and which the state refused to adjust when it could have done so."

Cities Benefits of Refunding

"If the event an acceptable refunding law is not passed, I hope that our creditors will bear with us until a better day, but I have no reason to expect them to do so. If an acceptable refunding law is passed, the federal suit which has tied up all the highway fund will be dismissed, and no decree against the county judges or any case at all will be entered."

"We will have funds to run our hospital without resorting to any increase of taxes, for the agreement allows us to keep what we have appropriated or borrowed from the highway fund."

"They give us in the agreement $2,000,000 a year to maintain our roads. They give us enough of the money to pay all the debts for maintenance incurred in 1931 and 1932, and to pay half the money due contractors for building roads, which should have been paid out of the bond fund, but was not, it being used to pay maturities on bonds."

"It will re-establish the credit and good reputation of the state in the commercial world. It will postpone the maturity of each highway bond for 10 years, and the road improvement district bond for 15 years, and will reduce the interest rate on the road improvement district bonds to three per cent instead of an average of 5 1/2 per cent, and will give us 15 years in which to pay the accumulated interest on the road bonds without interest."

"The question," Governor Futrell concluded, "is: 'Which road shall we take?'"

"We were interested in seeing scenery," Manoullian said, "and we neither went away to get married, nor did we get married. Of course there was a little excitement about it." The state chairman and vice chairman are Mrs. Ida A. Fenton, Extension Service, and Dene G. Carter, head of the engineering department, U. of A. The county director is Mrs. Dell Dent; the county engineer is J. W. Black.

In some of the 300 counties in the United States which were chosen as typical and therefore adapted for the purposes of the present survey work was delayed because of the holiday season, and storms or floods slowed up the work elsewhere. Following New Year's day, however, field agents were at work in most of the counties and the schedules they are filling out are being returned to county headquarters for compilation and tabulation. Later the schedules will be sent to state headquarters, and the final compilation will be sent to Washington.

The survey is in charge of the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In each state the Extension service is co-operating with the Department.

In addition to the immediate employment benefits which come during the quietest months of the farm year, local survey leaders point out that the survey will give the farm owners themselves and the Department of Agriculture an indication of the most immediate needs in farm homes. Needed improvements would, if financed in a way satisfactory to the farmer, produce activity in the building and equipment trades, thus benefiting trade and agriculture alike.

Roosevelt Purging Democratic Lists

Party Officials Who Also Practice Law Scheduled to Go

WASHINGTON.—Reports that Postmaster General James A. Farley will resign soon as Democratic national chairman and disclosures of the resignation of other members and officers of the Democratic National Committee flowed from an outburst of ethical considerations at the White House Wednesday.

President Roosevelt cracked down on Democratic National Committee men who as lawyers sell to clients their reputed influence with the administration.

Within an hour thereafter the ab was filled with disclosures of resignations of Democratic national committee men and rumors of resignations impending.

Robert Jackson, who opened a law office in Washington shortly after the Roosevelt administration came in, said that he resigned "some time ago" as Democratic national committeeman for New Hampshire and as secretary of the National Committee.

Arthur Mullen, still another Democratic lawyer who set up shop in the capitol upon the advent of the Roosevelt regime, was on his way to Omaha but when he left he was in a defiant mood. He was elected Democratic national committeeman by the people of Nebraska whom he recognizes no higher authority. He intimated he would refuse to resign.

Former Gov. O. Max Gardner of North Carolina, another who migrated to Washington when his party regained power, is still practicing law here but he resigned as Democratic national committeeman for North Carolina last summer.

Operations of the Democratic law firms was exposed last October since which time they have been under an increasingly hot fire much to the embarrassment of the president.

6th President for Cuba in 5 Months

Carlos Mendieta, ABC Candidate, Political Veteran of 60

HAVANA.—(AP)—Carlos Mendieta, 60, veteran of nearly four decades of political battling, Wednesday night was offered and accepted the presidency of Cuba.

He will head the sixth government Cuba has had in a little more than five months, taking over office from the youthful Carlos Hevia under outward conditions of the utmost confusion.

A general strike still was impending and military conditions appeared unsettled, but Mendieta's supporters assured him of united backing of the army and navy and the strongest political factions.

Hevia's rule was as short as it was uncertain. Only last Monday he maneuvered himself into the presidency when it appeared that Mendieta was sure of the office.

The Mendieta selection was an important victory for Batista, who refused to stay down after Minister of War Antoni Gutierrez had outmaneuvered him Monday to help place Hevia in the presidency.

Third-Degree of Brinker Admitted

Texas Rangers Tell of Slapping Him to Obtain Confession

TEXARKANA.—A Texas ranger and a former ranger admitted from the witness stand in fifth judicial district court at Boston Wednesday that they had slapped Edwin Brinker, 23, and "shoved his head against the wall" before he confessed to slaying P. A. McSwain, 37, here last June.

The testimony of the ranger and former ranger along with that of District Attorney Elmer L. Lincoln and Police Officer J. D. McCall, was given while the jury was excused, the point at issue being whether or not the confession and a subsequent confession of Brinker can be admitted in evidence.

In the event Judge Hicks Harvey upholds the state in its contention the confessions are admissible, it will be necessary to hear all the evidence over again while the jury is present. The officers and Lincoln were called to the stand as defense witnesses.

Attorneys for the state and defense often became vitriolic during the day, their side remarks reaching such a stage late in the day that Judge Harvey threatened to fine the next attorney who made a side remark. District Attorney Elmer L. Lincoln said statements directed toward him by Defense Attorney C. E. Bryson "were getting old."

Former Special Ranger C. M. "Buck" Weaver testified that he had slapped Brinker several times the night of November 17, when he was being questioned about the slaying and had shoved his head against the wall. He said he also had "got kind of rough in my talk" but insisted he could not remember the exact language he had used.

Ranger George H. Johnson said he had "cuffed or slapped" Brinker two or three times but said he did so when Brinker tried to show fight and seemed to resist his first questions as to his whereabouts on the night before the slaying.

Details of the now famous "ghost" re-enactment of the crime in which Deputy Sheriff Spurgeon Herrington was wrapped in a sheet stained with mercurchrome and played the part of McSwain were unfolded in full. Herrington was on the floor of a dark room when Brinker was shoved into it, the light snapped on and a shotgun thrust in his hands. There was an explosion of some kind just after h was shoved in the room.

Ginger Refrigerator Cookies

1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup flour
1 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. K. C. baking powder
Method: Mix in the order given. Moisten loaf. Wrap in wax paper and place in refrigerator over night. Slice very thin. Bake ten to twelve minutes 400 degrees. Makes about four dozen cookies.

Orange Chicken Salad

1/2 cup gelatin in 1-2 cup cold water. Heat 1 cup of orange juice. Add 1/4 cup of sugar. Add gelatin to this, when cool add 2 cups of orange juice including the juice of two lemons. When it begins to thicken, pour into mold and add chicken salad made from one chicken, 2 cups minced celery, 1 tsp. minced parsley.

Prune Salad

Remove the pits from well cooked prunes and stuff with grated cheese and nuts.

Oatmeal Cookies

3 whole eggs
2 cups sugar
1 cup shortening
1 cup butter/milk
2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. K. C. baking powder
3 cups flour
4 cups of oat meal
1 cup pecans
Method: Mix together and drop by spoonfuls onto greased baking sheet and bake in moderate oven about 12 minutes.

Original English Pudding

1 lb. beef suet chopped fine
1 1/2 lbs. bread crumbs
1 lb. seeded raisins
1 lb. seedless raisins
1 tsp. brandy and milk to suit
1/2 lb. currants
6 oz. of lemon and orange peel
4 oz. citron
Grated rind of 1 orange and 1 lemon, also juice
1/2 cup brown sugar
1 cup molasses
8 eggs, beaten and strained
1/2 tsp. each, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves
Method: Mix and steam 6 to 8 hours and put away, then resteam and serve hot.

Grape Jelly Cake

1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup cake flour
2 tsp. K. C. baking powder
2/3 cups milk
1 tsp. orange juice
Grated rind 1 orange
Method: Sift dry ingredients together. Cream sugar and shortening. Beat eggs thoroughly and add to creamed shortening. Alternate addition of milk and dry ingredients until all is used. Beat thoroughly. Add orange juice and grated rind. Bake in two layers 25 to 30 minutes. When cool, stake with the following:
2 egg whites
12 tablespoons of grape jelly.
Beat together thoroughly until stiff enough to spread on cake.

Crisp Sponge Cake Waffles

3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 tsp. K. C. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
3/4 cup melted butter
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 tsp. lemon extract
1 cup cake flour
Method: Beat eggs very light, add sugar. Add melted butter, cold water and extract. Sift dry ingredients together and beat into the cake mixture. Bake on a hot waffle iron until delicately brown.

Black Beauty

5 tablespoons of butter
1 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
2 eggs
2 squares melted chocolate
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 tsp. K. C. baking powder
1 1/3 cups cake flour
Method: Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar and sift together three times. Add putter. Combine eggs, milk and vanilla, and add flour mixture. Add chocolate and beat thoroughly. Bake in oven 325 degrees one hour and top with the following:
Chocolate Orange Icing: 2 tsp. grated orange rind
2 cups sifted confectioners sugar
1 1/2 squares melted chocolate
about 4 tsp. orange juice.
Mix together until smooth and put on cake.

For Crust: 2 cups of rolled ginger snap crumbs

1/3 cup melted butter.
Method: Blend together and press in bottom of pan and on sides to shape crust. Bake ten minutes 425 degrees.

Filling:

3 egg yolks
1/4 cups sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tsp. grated orange rind
1/3 cup flour
1 1/4 cups water
Method: Cook in double boiler until thick. Let cool and pour in ginger snap crust and top with meringue.
Meringue: 3 egg whites beaten stiff, 8 tsp. sugar. Cook 375 degrees 15 minutes.

Stuffed Vegetables

6 big cabbage leaves
6 small green peppers
6 medium size tomatoes
6 slices bacon
To Prepare Vegetables: Drop cabbage leaves in boiling water for just exactly 5 minutes. Cut top slice from peppers, remove seeds, and drop into boiling water for 5 minutes. Drain cabbage leaves and peppers. Cut top slice from tomatoes. Remove most of pulp and serve.

Stuffing for Vegetables

3/4 lb ground cooked meat (beef, ham or left-over meat)
2 1/3 cups wheaties
3 small onions, ground
1 clove, garlic, ground
4 pimiento pods, chopped
1/2 cups celery, chopped
1 tsp. salt
1 egg
Shake of pepper
3 tablespoons melted butter
4 drops Tabasco
Method: Mix all thoroughly. 2. Place a generous amount on each cabbage leaf, roll up, and fasten with a toothpick. 3. Add tomato pulp to remainder of stuffing. 4. Place vegetables and stuffing in refrigerator until time to bake the vegetables. 5. Make tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce

1/2 cup cooking oil
1 onion, sliced
2 cans tomato soup
1/2 cup water
1/4 tsp. Tabasco
1 bay leaf
1 tsp. salt
1 tablespoon sugar
Method: 1. Cook onion in oil until yellow. 2. Add remainder of ingredients and just bring to a boil. Pour over vegetables.

Tomato Cheese Salad

2 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in 1/4 cup cold water
1 can hot tomato soup
Method: Let cool. Mix with 3 packages of cream cheese, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1/4 cup celery, 1/2 cup stuffed olives, 1 cup nut meats. Mold.

Turnips Au Gratin

4 large turnips, 1 pound ground pork. Boil turnips in salted water until tender, boil pork using about one cup water; cook until water is all used. Season pork with 1/4 tsp. Morton salt, 1/4 tsp. black pepper, 1/4 tsp. Tabasco sauce. Scoop out centers of turnips and mix with pork and fill centers of turnips with this mixture. Place in baking dish and sprinkle with 1/2 cup of grated cheese pour over this 1/2 cup sweet milk and bake in oven 375 degrees 30 minutes.

Horse Owners Rebel

Horsemen gathered at Miami for the winter meetings recently went on "strike" because track owners announced inauguration of saliva tests and assignment of inspectors in all barns to prevent "hopping" the noble thoroughbred. This action seems to substantiate disclosures of federal narcotic agents working at various tracks last summer. Horse doping is even more general than is supposed. A great many inferior horses cannot run respectably, let alone win, without what some trackmen call a "jolt." But high-class trainers, with prize horses under their care, realize that administration of drugs does not pay.

How Effective?

A trainer of a one-horse stable on a "leaky-roof" circuit once told the writer that he hoped his horse every time he ran. He did not even know what dope he was giving the animal, saying "a druggist makes it up for me." The horse's record showed he had won one race in 23 starts. The effect of the stimulant must be slightly discounted.

Common dopes used at tracks are heroin, morphine, strychnine, and whisky. Both strychnine and whisky are stimulants and, given correctly, are not injurious to the horse. They step up the heart action and motor reflexes. Further, strychnine and whisky are easily given and may benefit a horse who is sulking or one just developing a slight cold. But strychnine requires from 20 minutes to six hours in which to take effect and a trainer would have to experiment often to be certain of the time allowance. Even then he would have to gamble on unexpected post delays.

Barber Is First Brinker Witness

Texarkana Iceman Pleads Not Guilty in Murder Trial

TEXARKANA.—With the jury selected after two days of questioning, the preliminary technical testimony out of the way, fifth judicial district court Tuesday night awaited the fireworks that are certain to ensue when the state attempts to introduce a confession of Edwin Brinker to the murder of P. A. McSwain.

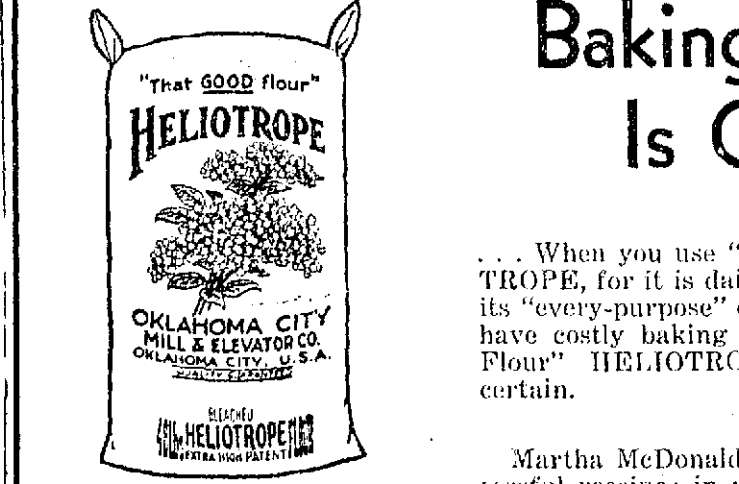

The jury was completed at 3 p. m. and one witness, R. O. Dumis, Texarkana barber at whose home the body of McSwain, 37, was found last June 23 was heard before adjournment.

"Not guilty," said Brinker, 23, in a low but clear voice when arraigned for the reading of the indictment by District Attorney Elmer L. Lincoln.

The jury is composed of 10 farmers, one railway clerk and one retired business man. Its members are Nugent Terrell, New Boston; J. R. Tidwell, Simms; J. A. Wiggins, Texarkana; Charles Moseley, DeKalb; J. J. McCrory, DeKalb; Dalton Corley, Simms; Henry Rainey, New Boston; Odus Sanders, DeKalb; J. C. Sturgeon, New Boston; W. W. George, Redwater; J. L. McCullough, DeKalb; and C. C. Norris, New Boston. Three of the jurors are young men and the others are middle aged or older.

There are 1490 institutions of higher learning in the United States; 168 of these are listed as Roman Catholic.

Speed Emphasized in Bobcat Squad

Coach Jones Building Team Around Two Three-Year Men

With two three-year men as a nucleus, Coach Teddy Jones hopes to build a Bobcat basketball team that will make the fans in and around Hope set up and take notice.

Handicapped through the lack of experienced men who have size, Coach Jones will develop his team along the speed line. The two lettermen on this year's team are: R. C. Kennedy, center, who made the all-district second team last year, and Leonard England, both above six feet.

The other three men who have had former experience are little but fast. These are Pat Brown, Kenneth Madison and Ray Turner. The two former gave football fans some thrills last fall. Turner comes to Hope as the result of his family moving here from Washington where he played a nice brand of ball.

The team will be handicapped by the loss of Hendrix Spragins, a veteran letterman. This six-foot-four of brawn and speed is lost to the team on account of a rupture suffered last summer. Before the offense was built around this lanky youngster who controlled the tip-off and was death to the rebounds. Other men who were lost to the team, by graduation, are Lloyd Berry, Harold Hammitter, Emmett Lowallen and Dillard Breeding.

Coach Jones has a stiff schedule of eight games followed by the county and district tournaments. For these games the line-up will look something like this: England and Brown, guards; Kennedy, center and Madison and Turner, forwards. On the bench ready for the afloat at any time will be Nolen Cagile, Jack Simpson and Emmett Lowallen forwards and Jack Turner, guard.

The schedule for the Bobcat cagers follows:

Jan. 19.—Blevens here.
Jan. 26.—Arkadelphia here.
Jan. 30.—Lewisville here.
Feb. 2.—Texarkana there.
Feb. 7.—Spring Hill here.
Feb. 9.—Texarkana here.
Feb. 14.—Lewisville here.
Feb. 16.—Arkadelphia there.

Definite dates for the county and district are not yet settled. It is probable though, that the county tournament will be played here he third week in February and the district tournament will be held at a place not yet determined the last week in February.

How Cardui Helped Lady Get Stronger

"I was in a weak condition when I started to using Cardui," writes Mrs. Oscar West, of Dayton, Texas. "I found it helped me greatly. My appetite was poor and I had lost weight. It was an effort for me to do my work. I felt tired all the time. I read that other women took Cardui as a tonic, so I decided it would help me. It strengthened me and increased my appetite, and I felt better than I had in a long time. I think it is a great medicine for weak women."

Hope Wins Over Patmos 37 to 23

Bobcats Win Second Game of Season—England High Man

The Hope High School basketball team won its second game of the season here Wednesday night, defeating Patmos High 37 to 23.

England, of Hope, and Mayton, for the visitors, battled for high point scoring honors, each chalking up 13 apiece. Madison, of Hope, was a class second with 14 points.

The game was played in the high school gymnasium.

Last week the Bobcats won over Washington High School here, 26 to 12.

A second game was played Wednesday night in which Guernsey had an easy time winning over Washington High School, 32 to 8.

Arkadelphia Boy Is Badly Wounded

Kimbrough Bass, 19 Stabbed at CCC Camp Dance

ARKADELPHIA, Ark.—Kimbrough Bass, 19-year-old son of Mrs. Josephine Bass, of this city is in the Army and Navy hospital at Hot Springs, in a critical condition as the result of being stabbed during an altercation at a dance held at the Lono CCC camp in Hot Spring county about 9 p. m. Saturday.

According to Paul Bass, brother of the victim, the youth was stabbed in the back by a drunk, the blade penetrating about four inches and badly slashing one of the lungs. Extreme measures were being made at the hospital to save the youth.

Limit on Frogs Is Asked by McGehee

Legislator Says 400,000 Are Being Shipped East Each Year

LITTLE ROCK, (U.P.)—The famed frog bill of Representative Scott McGehee of Desha county, which caused so much discussion at the regular session of the legislature, is being reworked for introduction at the "moratorium session."

Representative McGehee said "the press of Arkansas has been making me during the regular session. I am serious in wanting a limit placed on the number of frogs that may be killed."

McGehee said that it takes three years for a frog to grow to "eating size"; that 400,000 are being shipped from Arkansas to the east each year; and that frogs are diminishing so fast that "the country isn't country anymore because you can't hear the frogs croaking."
